subject: Biological Parent and Section 131

This memorandum responds to your request for assistance. This advice may not be used or cited as precedent.

Issue

May a biological parent who receives payment for the care of a disabled biological child qualify as a foster care provider under section 131 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Conclusion

A biological parent may not qualify as a foster care provider under section 131.

Law and Analysis

Section 131(a) of the Code provides that gross income shall not include amounts received by a foster care provider during the taxable year as qualified foster care payments. Neither the Code nor the regulations define the term "foster care" or "foster care provider."

The ordinary meaning of foster care excludes care by a biological parent. To "foster" is to give parental care to a child who is not one's natural or legally adopted child. Black's Law Dictionary 727 (9th ed. 2009). See section 152(f)(1)(A)(i) and (ii) of the Code, which differentiates between a son or daughter and a foster child. See also Bannon v. Commissioner, 99 T.C. 59 (1992), in which the Tax Court held that payments to the mother of an adult disabled daughter for providing in-home supportive services were income to the mother.
